JOE FOGARTY SIGNS TO COACH YALE QUINTET

Former Penn Tutor to Instruct Eli Basketball Players

Joe Fogarty, who for years was a star in basketball ranks in this city, has signed to coach the Yale quintet next season. The Blue athletic authorites thorities have been after Fogarty for Athletics some time, but Fogarty wanted to emain at Pennsylvania as assistant coach. However, the offer was increased to such figures that he could not refuse.

For the last several seasons, Fogarty has been assisting Ed McNichol and Detroit, Lon Jourdet with the famous Pennsylvania teams, and the success of the Red and Blue was due in a large meas-ure to the system installed by the forner Eastern and Central League star. Fogarry has been a star player and coach in basketball from the time he entered Catholic High School. He knows the game as few know it, and his presence with the Yale team means

Twelve Young Women From United States Will Compete in Olympic Games

TO TRAIN ABOARD SHIP

New York, Aug. 1.-America's twelve girl entries in the women's Olympic games at Paris sailed on the Aquitania today, believing they are going to a sweeping victory, but planning to make certain of it by training every day of the voyage.

Dr. Harry Stewart, coach and trainer of the "athletic dozen," made arrangements with ship officers to provide hurdles, jumping posts and even running lanes on the ship's decks so the girls could keep in trim.

Under the leadership of Flora Bat-son, of Rosemary II: Greenwich, Conn., captain of the team, the girls went to their staterooms without exeitement. There were no crowds to cheer them on their way.
"We are going over to clean up," said Miss Batson, "and we will show Americans that the girls of the country are good athletes-just as good as the Saratoga Handican men
